JOHN 8: 32

My friend called me late one night during her cancer treatment. Grieved by her uncontrollable sobs, I soon added my own tears and a silent prayer.

What am I supposed to do, Lord?

Her wails squeezed my heart. I couldn't stop her pain, fix her situation, or find one intelligible word of encouragement. But I knew who could help. As I wept with my friend, stumbling through a prayer, I whispered repeatedly, "Jesus. Jesus."

Her cries quieted to sniffs and whimpers, until her breathing slowed. Her husband's voice startled me. "She's asleep," he said. "We'll call tomorrow." I hung up, weeping prayers into my pillow.

The gospel of Mark shares a story of another person who wanted to help his loved one. A desperate father brought his suffering son to Jesus (Mark 9:17).

Doubt clung to his plea, as he reiterated the impossibility of their circumstances (vv. 20–22) and acknowledged his need for Jesus to empower his belief (v. 24). The father and son experienced freedom, hope, and peace when Jesus stepped in and took control (vv. 25–27).

When loved ones are hurting, it's natural to want to do the right things and say the perfect words; but Christ is the only One who can truly help us. When we call on the name of Jesus, He can enable us to believe and rely on the power of His presence.

JESUS. JESUS. JESUS. OH, HOW WE NEED YOU, JESUS.

The name of Jesus is the powerful prayer that leads us into His mighty presence.

MISSIONARY OF THE WEEK

DANIEL & SARAH JENKINS MISSIONARIES TO THE GAMBIA

We are Daniel & Sarah Jenkins, missionaries on deputation to raise support to go to The Gambia in West Africa. We are looking to be there full-time by the Fall of 2019!

The Gambia is the smallest nation on mainland Africa. A nation of 2 million people that is rich in farmland, fishing, and local trade. "The smiling coast of Africa", as Gambia is affectionately known, is a predominately Islamic country with more than 95% of its citizens identifying as Muslim. Gambia is an English based country with many local ethnic languages and is open to the gospel. National believers are present within this country yet there are no Independent Baptist church planting missionaries in this country. Other denominations that exist within the country include Catholic, Charismatic, and Animism. The needs within The Gambia are many, yet the greatest need for this tiny West African country is Bible teaching and preaching. It is our desire to teach the Bible and train national believers with our focus towards planting and establishing indigenous churches.
